IF THIS SOUNDS LIKE YOU:

You're primarily concerned with keeping laptop heat away from your body while working at your home office, relaxing on the couch, or looking up recipes in the kitchen.

You like to use your laptop on your lap all around the house and on the go, but also love to use an external mouse (you know, instead of the one built into your laptop).

You crave comfort while using your laptop wherever you are at home... the couch, your favorite chair, or even laying in bed.

You want to keep your lap cool and comfortable and want great sound while watching movies, playing games, or cranking your tunes.
