Product Safety

Exercise caution. When using your 360fly[®] camera in your active lifestyle, always be aware of your surroundings to avoid injury to yourself and others.

You've been warned. Failure to follow these instructions/warnings could result in fire, electrical shock and other injuries or damage to your 360fly camera and other property.

Handle this. Your camera contains sensitive components. Do not toss, drop, disassemble, open, crush, roll, deform, shred, kick, microwave, paint, incinerate or insert foreign objects into the camera.

Damage alert. Do not use the 360fly camera if it has been damaged. For example, if it's cracked, punctured or has other visible damage.

Charge safely. To avoid shock when charging, do not handle the plug or charger with wet hands. Attempting to use any charger other than the magnetic cradle supplied with the camera can damage the camera. If you do not know the voltage and current of a charger, use the included USB cable to charge from a computer.

Don't force it. Never force-fit connectors into ports. Check for obstructions and make sure connectors match and are aligned correctly.

Water-wise. Do not use the 360fly[®] camera in rain or in other wet locations without plugging in its Mic Plug, where a Mic Plug has been provided with the camera. Do not dry a wet camera using external heat sources such as hair dryers, heater vents, ovens or microwaves. Simply pat dry with a clean, soft cloth or towel.

Helmet warning. If using your camera with a 360fly[®] baseplate or the Action Camera Mount on a helmet, always select a helmet that meets the applicable safety standards. Inspect your helmet to ensure it's in good condition and follow the manufacturer's instructions.

That's glass. Your camera's lens is glass. Should it break, care should be taken to avoid cuts or other injuries. Keep out of reach of children.

Running hot and cold. Avoid exposing camera and its internal battery to extreme heat or cold. Very low or high temperatures can shorten the battery's life or stop the camera from working. Avoid instant, dramatic changes in humidity and temperature so condensation doesn't form on or in the camera.

Be smart, legal and cool. Abide by all local laws when using this camera. There may be laws in your jurisdiction related to the use of the camera in a particular way. Some jurisdictions prohibit the use of a video camera as an attachment to certain equipment such as firearms or use in invasions of privacy.

Lithium batteries: A primary battery shall be marked with the word "WARNING" and the following or an equivalent statement: "Risk of fire and burns. Do not recharge, open, crush, heat above [the manufacturer's specified temperature rating], or incinerate." If space does not permit marking on the battery, the marking may be on the smallest unit package.

Do not get the battery wet; water will damage the battery, which could cause an explosion or fire.

Risk of explosion or personal injury if batteries are mutilated, or exposed to conducting materials, liquids, fire, or heat (above 54° C or 130° F). Do not use or recharge damaged rechargeable batteries. Do not mix battery types. Dispose of spent or damaged batteries according to manufacturer instructions and local laws.
