How often and how long should I use the FURminator Dual Grooming Brush?

For best results, use the brush daily for 5-10 minutes each session, though the actual time will vary depending on your pet's breed, the condition of their coat, and the thickness of the pet's individual coat. It may be necessary to use the tool more frequently during heavy shedding seasons or if the pet has excessive debris or tangles.

Where should I perform the grooming process?

Grooming your pet will loosen large amounts of loose hair and debris, so a location that is easy to clean, such as a tile floor indoors or an outdoor area, makes clean-up more convenient. Most importantly, always choose a location where your pet feels comfortable and safe.

FURminator® Grooming Rake

Please read all instructions and FAQs carefully before beginning your grooming. Use the FURminator® Grooming Rake only as directed.

Directions for Use

1. To groom your pet, find a calm time and location to sit down with your pet. Gently stroke across the pet's coat in the direction of hair growth. Start from your pet's head and work your way back, using extra care near stomach, legs, genitals and anus. Avoid making excessive strokes in a single area, as this may cause irritation of your pet's fur and skin. Brush until all tangles and mats are removed from the pet's fur.
2. Grooming is a good time to perform a complete physical inspection of your pet. As you brush your pet, look for sores, bruises and skin conditions, which your pet's coat may conceal. If your pet has any of these conditions, seek treatment from a veterinarian before resuming brushing.

Frequently Asked Questions

When should I use the FURminator Grooming Rake?

Your pet can be brushed any time, on both wet and dry fur. Brushing can be performed on its own or in conjunction with other products, such as a detangling spray or shed control shampoo. Brushing is also an important step to perform before using a deShedding tool on your pet to remove tangles and small mats.

The grooming rake is ideal for pets with thick fur and double coats, as the rotating teeth detangle dense fur with minimized tugging.

How often and how long should I use the tool?

For best results, use the FURminator Grooming Rake for 5-10 minutes each session, though the actual time will vary depending on your pet's breed, the condition of their coat, and the thickness of the pet's individual coat. It may be necessary to use the grooming rake tool more frequently during heavy shedding seasons or if the pet has excessive tangles or mats.

Where should I perform the grooming process?

Grooming your pet will loosen large amounts of loose hair and debris, so a location that is easy to clean, such as a tile floor indoors or an outdoor area, makes clean-up more convenient. Most importantly, always choose a location where your pet feels comfortable and safe.

FURminator® Bathing Brush

Please read all instructions and FAQs carefully before beginning your grooming. Use the FURminator® Bathing Brush only as directed. The tool can boost the effectiveness of your bathing routine.

Directions for Use

1. Before using, open container and fill with FURminator® shampoo or conditioner. Reseal container.
2. Similar to your normal bathing routine, wet pet thoroughly and massage fur and skin with the bathing brush, pressing the button as you go to dispense product into coat. The tool will loosen pet hair, and shampoo or conditioner will be evenly distributed into the pet's hair and skin.
3. Follow shampoo or conditioner directions and rinse as normal.

Frequently Asked Questions

Can the FURminator Bathing Brush be used on all pets?

The bathing brush may be used on most animals with fur. The bathing brush has gentle teeth, so the tool can be used on some pets with sensitive skin.

When should I use the bathing brush?

Use when you would normally shampoo your pet, ideally monthly. Use after your pet has been wet. When using conditioner, apply after shampooing as normal or after using another bathing brush full of shampoo.

FURminator® Hair Collection Tool / FURminator® Home Hair Collection Tool

Please read all instructions and FAQs carefully before beginning your grooming. Use the FURminator® hair collection tools only as directed. FURminator brand offers tools to tackle hair before your pet sheds, and also tools to clean up the hair that your pet has already shed.

Directions for Use (Hair Collection Tool)

1. Simply repeatedly run the roller over surfaces covered with pet hair and the tool will begin to pick up the pet hair embedded on furniture, bedding, carpets, car seats and more. Turn the Furcollector knob regularly as you go along to trap pet hair in the collection chamber.
2. When the tool is full of hair and no longer collecting additional hair, press the button to open the hair chamber. Remove the hair from the hair collection chamber, reclose the tool, and continue rolling over surfaces until desired hair clean-up results are achieved.

Directions for Use (Home Hair Collection Tool)

1. Before using, adjust the telescoping handle to the desired length. Then, simply repeatedly pull the roller over surfaces with pet hair and the tool will begin to pick up the hair embedded on furniture, bedding, carpets, car seats and more. Turn the Furcollector knob regularly as you go along to trap pet hair in the collection chamber.
2. When the tool is full of hair and no longer collecting additional hair, press the button to open the hair chamber. Remove the hair from the hair collection chamber, reclose the tool, and continue pulling over surfaces until desired hair clean-up results are achieved.

Frequently Asked Questions

On what surfaces can I use the FURminator hair collection tools?

The tools work on most flat surfaces, including furniture, bedding, carpets and car seats.

Are the products reusable?

Yes, the tools do not use any adhesive so they continue to work after many uses.

What hair types do the hair collection tools work on?

The tools work with most hair types, long or short, thick or fine, and for most shedding animal types.

How often should I use the hair collection tools?

You can use the tools as often as it is needed, including daily. The tool can be also used to clean up after grooming or deShedding your pet, as those activities can produce large amounts of loose hair.

FURminator® Undercoat deShedding Tool

Please read all instructions and FAQs carefully before beginning your grooming. Use the FURminator® Undercoat deShedding Tool only as directed. Undercoat deShedding is not the same as brushing or combing – it removes loose, dead hair from shedding without cutting or damaging the topcoat.*

Directions for Use

1. Undercoat deShedding can be performed at any time on a pet with a completely dry coat, but for best results, perform deShedding treatments immediately after washing and drying. FURminator brand's extensive line of grooming products is designed to promote healthy skin and coats in pets and significantly reduce the amount of hair being shed into the house with regular use.
2. Before using the FURminator Undercoat deShedding Tool, perform a complete physical inspection of your pet. Look for sores, bruises and skin conditions, which your pet's coat may conceal. If your pet has any of these conditions, seek treatment from a veterinarian before brushing. In addition, before using the tool, remove tangles or mats with FURminator Fur Dematting Tool or Grooming Rake.
3. Use the tool much like a brush, gently stroking across the pet's coat in the direction of hair growth, angling the stainless steel teeth toward the coat. Start from your pet's head and work your way back, using extra care near the stomach, legs, genitals and anus. Avoid making excessive strokes in a single area, instead using fewer long, gentle strokes up and away from your pet's skin. Although the SkinGuard design prevents digging in at edges and helps the tool slide over skin, deep or rough brushing can still irritate pet skin, so avoid brushing with excessive pressure. If you notice any redness or irritation, discontinue use.
4. As undercoat hair is collected by your tool, excess hair can be removed from the teeth of the tool by pushing the FURejector® button.

Frequently Asked Questions

Can the FURminator Undercoat deShedding Tool be used on all pets?

The tool may be used on most animals that shed, including dogs, cats and other pets with an undercoat. The tool should not be used on non-shedding breeds or on pets with particularly sensitive skin.

How often and how long should I use the tool?

For best results, use the tool 1-2 times a week for 10 to 20 minutes each session, though the actual time will vary depending on your pet's breed, the condition of their coat, and the thickness of the pet's individual coat. It may be necessary to use the tool more frequently during heavy shedding seasons. FURminator brand's grooming edge is designed to make grooming pets faster and easier, while the SkinGuard design eliminates digging and allows the tool to glide over most pet skin.

Where should I perform the grooming process?

The tool will remove large amounts of loose hair and undercoat, so a location that is easy to clean, such as a tile floor indoors or an outdoor area, makes clean-up more convenient. Most importantly, always choose a location where your pet feels comfortable and safe.

How do I take care of my FURminator Undercoat deShedding Tool?

- Brush your pet before using the tool to remove any mats or tangles. Using the tool on matted or tangled fur can feel uncomfortable for the pet.
- Be careful not to drop or place the tool where it can fall, as it may result in damage to the tool's teeth.
- The deShedding edge can be cleaned with warm water and a mild soap. Cleaning can reduce the feeling of a dull edge by reducing dander collection on the teeth of the deShedding edge. Dry the tool completely before storing.
- The tool has an Edge Guard around the deShedding edge, so the tool does not require a cap when stored. Simply press down the FURejector® button and pull toward you to lock the Edge Guard into place, protecting the deShedding edge.

*when used as directed

FURminator® Adjustable Dematter Tool

Please read all instructions and FAQs carefully before beginning your grooming. Use the FURminator® Adjustable Dematter Tool only as directed. Matted fur can cause severe discomfort for pets and become increasingly difficult to remove if left unchecked. The dematter tool can prevent mats from becoming worse and remove them completely.

Directions for Use

1. To demat your pet, first start by adjusting the dematting cutting edges to the desired position appropriate for your pet's hair length by pressing the FURextender button, then locking into place with the easy-slide tab.
2. Move the dematter tool through fur mats following the grain of the hair, using brisk, firm strokes for best results. Continue until mats are broken up. Smaller mats will fall out on their own or become small enough to remove with regular brushing.

Frequently Asked Questions

What hair types does the FURminator Adjustable Dematter Tool work on?

The tool works with most hair types, long or short, thick or fine, and for most animal types. Regardless of hair type, always use on a dry pet so mats are loose.

What is the best method for removing mats?

Patiently tackling mats slowly and deliberately works well. Large mats that have been neglected for a long period may take some time to remove.

After dematting, how do I avoid future pet hair mats?

Grooming your dog daily with a brush or rake can go a long way toward preventing the formation of mats. Once mats have been removed from dematting, it is easier to stay on top of detangling with regular brushing. FURminator Detangling Spray can make it easier to brush or comb out tangles.

FURminator® Dual Grooming Brush

Please read all instructions and FAQs carefully before beginning your grooming. Use the FURminator® Dual Grooming Brush only as directed.

Directions for Use

1. To brush your pet, find a calm time and location to sit down with your pet for grooming. Gently stroke across the pet's coat in the direction of hair growth. Start from your pet's head and work your way back, using extra care near stomach, legs, genitals and anus. Avoid making excessive strokes in a single area, as this may cause irritation of your pet's fur and skin. Brush until all debris is removed from the pet's fur, tangles are removed, and all areas of fur have been brushed.
2. Grooming is a good time to perform a complete physical inspection of your pet. As you brush your pet, look for sores, bruises and skin conditions, which your pet's coat may conceal. If your pet has any of these conditions, seek treatment from a veterinarian before resuming brushing.

Frequently Asked Questions

Which side should I use?

The bristle brush side is an excellent all-around brush that can be used on dogs with most coat types, removing debris or finishing the coat with a natural shine. The pin brush side works well with long pet coats. Both sides help remove debris or loose hair and break up tangles.

When should I use the FURminator Dual Grooming Brush?

Your pet can be brushed any time, on both wet and dry fur. Brushing can be performed on its own or in conjunction with other products, such as a detangling spray or shed control shampoo. Brushing is also an important step to perform before using a deShedding tool on your pet to remove tangles and small mats.
