Connecting my iPhone, iPad or iPod Touch via Wi-Fi.
When you’re using your monitor at home, we suggest you connect your iPhone via Wi-Fi in order to enjoy better video quality.

Get alerts whenever I want.
Each parent can choose, individually, which alerts they want to receive (noise, movement, temperature and humidity) via the WithBaby app.

Closing my Smart Baby Monitor.
When you close your Smart Baby Monitor, only the video is turned off. You can still receive alerts or listen in on your baby.

Using my Smart Baby Monitor at a friend’s.
Once outside your home, your baby monitor automatically connects to your iPhone via Bluetooth so that you can monitor your baby without any Internet connection.

Troublehooting

The Smart Baby Monitor does not start.
Make sure the power supply unit is plugged into a wall socket and connected to the back of the Smart Baby Monitor.

The Smart Baby Monitor is on, I’ve activated Bluetooth, but I don’t see my device in the list.
For safety reasons, you only can pair with Bluetooth during the first 30 minutes after turning on the baby monitor. All you need to do is restart your monitor to see it in the list.
If the problem persists, make sure you are at least 15 metres from your Smart Baby Monitor before trying again.

I’m connected via Bluetooth, but the iPhone app does not install automatically.
Install the application manually:
- Go to the App Store by clicking on the icon:

- Search for: WithBaby.
- Install the WithBaby app, launch it and follow the instructions.
